KEENE'S PATENT MARBLE CEMENT forms an exceedingly hard and indestructible Stucco, which may either be prepared for painting or finished in imitation of stone, by the addition of Portland or other stone dust.

It is a cheap and efficient substitute in places of wood for skirting, arch linings, and other mouldings, for which purposes it checks the progress of fire and the attacks of Vermin.

Patentees and sole Manufacturers, J. B. WHITE and SONS, Millbank-street, Westminster, and Seel-street, Liverpool.

PORTLAND CEMENT.—J. B. WHITE and SONS, request reference to Nos. 284 and 290, pages 243 and 251, of "The Builder." For accounts of experiments on the strength of Portland Cements.—These trials show that for the practical purposes of building, the cementing power of Portland Cement is double that of Roman Cement in the proportion of four to one; thus marking it as the most fit material for turning the brick arches of Railway bridges and other works of a critical nature, while its firm adhesion to most sorts of stone, as well as bricks, combined with its eminently hydraulic properties, adapt it for such purposes as the building of sea and wharf walls, and the lining of reservoirs, cisterns, baths, &c. Manufacturers, J. B. WHITE and SONS, Millbank street, Westminster.

PORTLAND CEMENT, solely MANUFACTURED by WILLIAM ASPDIN, Son of the Patentee. Messrs. ROBINS, ASPDIN, and Co. request reference to No. 290, page 251, and also Nos. 284 and 285, pages 243 and 251 of "The Builder," for accounts of EXPERIMENTS on the strength of Portland Cements, wherein the great superiority of their Cement is manifest. This Cement has been proved for upwards of twenty years in the Thames Tunnel to resist the action of water; it is stronger in its cementitious qualities, harder, and more durable than any other description of Cement; it does not vegetate, or drain, or turn green; nor is it affected by any atmospheric influence whatever the climate, resisting alike the action of frost and heat. It is manufactured to set in from five to sixty minutes. For all purposes that Cement is applicable the Proprietors challenge competition.—Orders received by Messrs. ROBINS, ASPDIN, and Company, at their Manufactory, Northfleet, Kent, and their Wharf, Great Scotland-yard, Whitehall; also by their Agent at the Depôt, 1, Back Lourse, Liverpool.

JOHNS and CO.'S PATENT STUCCO CEMENT and PAINT.—The attention of Architects, Builders, Plasterers, Painters, Merchants, and the Public generally is solicited to the many advantages attached to these celebrated Materials, which, for their appearance, durability, impermeability, utter resistance to frost or heat, and consequent economy, distinguish them from all other cements and paints, and fully justify the confidence reposed in them, as shewn by the numerous testimonials received from public bodies and private individuals of the first importance.—Prospectuses and particulars may be obtained from the sole agent, PHILIP HARE, at the Warehouse, 21, Steel-yard, Upper Thames-street.

MARTIN'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF and ORNAMENTAL CEMENT—REDUCTION of PRICE.—The Patentees beg to inform their Friends and the Public that they have made arrangements which enable them to offer this invaluable cement at a considerably reduced price. It has now been before the public so many years, and has obtained so high a standing in the estimation of all who have used it, that it is unnecessary to comment on its merits. The Patentees, however, feel called upon to observe, that by its use—from the greater amount of surface which a given quantity will cover, and the small amount of labour required in working it, a saving of 25 to 30 per cent. is effected as compared with other cements for internal use. Specimens shewing its beauty, hardness, and applicability to all plain and ornamental purposes, may be seen: and the Cement in any quantity steamed of the Patentees, Messrs STEVENS and SON, at their Plaster and Cement Works, 101, Drury-lane, London.

TO ARCHITECTS, CONTRACTORS, BUILDERS, AND OTHERS.

WE have pleasure in calling your attention to our REGISTERED CUPBOARD TURN, the novelty and simplicity thereof being universally acknowledged. It possesses the important advantage of a peculiar bent tongue, and revolving itself to any thickness of door: the cost being scarcely, if any more, than the ordinary turn, added to its utility, it will, we flatter ourselves, supersede any yet introduced.

WEBB and GREENWAY, Manufacturers and Wholesale Ironmongers, York-street, Birmingham.

PROTECTION of LIFE and PROPERTY from FIRE.—Again and again, we protest against the absurdity of constructing buildings as if for the public purpose of readily burning, and urge, on the other hand, the importance of adopting every practicable precaution to render them fire-proof, and the on easiest society which the neglect of these precautions involves.—See leading article of "The Builder," of Nov. 11, 1848.

The attention of the public is especially directed to the method of constructing the floors, ceilings, and roofs of dwelling-houses and other buildings invented and recently patented by Dr. Fox, of North-cote, Bristol, by which they are perfectly fire-proof, and secured from the annoyance of vermin, and the baneful effects of dry-rot. This invention has been subjected to the test of more than fourteen years' experience, in an extensive lunatic asylum, erected by the patentee in the county of Gloucester, and unites greatly increased strength and durability with the above advantages, while the principle of construction is so perfectly simple and effective, as to preclude all hesitancy to adopt it for public buildings of all kinds: for warehouses, where valuable property is deposited; for manufactories, where hazardous business is carried on; and for all buildings which are subject to heavy rates of fire insurance, as well as for private residences and dwelling houses generally, this system is most completely adapted, affording complete security to life and property. The expense is considerably less than any other system of fire-proof building, and less not exceed that of the ordinary mode of construction with timber. There is also considerable economy in the application of the fire-proof roofing, which entirely supersedes the necessity of the usual timber roof.—Further particulars may be obtained, and the following terms, on application to the proprietors, Messrs. FOX and BARRETT, Leicester Chambers, 38, Leicester-square.
